Passionate for Pollinators

As interest in pollinator-friendly gardening continues to grow among consumers, Quality Cuttings Team is committed to helping growers meet market demand (including a few who take pollinator support very seriously) with high-performing varieties known to attract bees, butterflies, and other beneficial insects. Working closely with our grower partners, we continue expanding pollinator-focused selections while also increasing the use of beneficial biological controls within production as part of our ongoing commitment to responsible growing practices.

“Consumer demand for pollinator-friendly plants continues to grow across the garden industry.”

Bred by Rick Grazzini of Garden Genetics and represented by Garden Choice™, the GardenFest® collection combines bold color, season-long performance, and exceptional versatility for growers and retailers alike.

Flexi™ Series

Flexible stems reduce breakage in shipping while dense branching creates full, retail-ready plants ideal for mixed combinations and containers.

GardenScape™ Series

Traditional landscape coleus bred for vibrant garden color, strong branching, and dependable late-season performance in beds and large containers.

All GardenFest® Coleus varieties are sun tolerant, shade adaptable, and extremely late flowering, with no flowering observed before Labor Day in trials.

Meet Carlos and Alejandro

At Quality Cuttings, strong partnerships are rooted in trust, experience, and an unwavering commitment to quality. That's why we proudly partner with Floraplant®, our exclusive unrooted cutting production partner serving the U.S. and Canada.

Helping lead the program are Carlos Martinez and Alejandro Garcia, whose combined decades of experience support the high standards behind every cutting produced. Together, they oversee production with a hands-on approach focused on clean stock, strict sanitary protocols, and consistent quality.

With more than 40 years of experience and USDA-certified export production, Floraplant® remains a trusted partner dedicated to delivering dependable, high-performing cuttings growers can count on.

- SuperSemp's offer growers a new way to sell into non traditional retailers with a decorative plant that needs zero maintenance for months and can be shipped via boxes directly to retail stores.
- Collections are also simple to list and sell on Amazon or other dot com sites, just changing out the wraps at the time of sale.
- Crop times are quick, using unrooted materials from Quality Cuttings in Mexico - just 6 weeks to root and size up for a 2.5" container.
- Holiday wraps are available for Easter, Mother's Day, Halloween, Day of the Dead and Christmas from DPI printers in San Diego. - any custom patterns can also be done for each retailers.
